The Clearview Regional School District has received information from the Harrison Township Police Department about an anonymous potential threat to our high school today – March 14th. We have been working with our local authorities investigating this matter. Members of the Gloucester County Sherriff's Department and New Jersey State Police Canine units conducted a sweep of the school over the past few hours and no weapons were found. However, due to the lack of specificity to the threat, we continue to investigate this issue with caution.

As always, student safety remains our first priority!

Due to the ongoing investigation, the Clearview Regional School will be closed today, Wednesday, March 14, 2018.

If anyone has information regarding this threat we ask that you contact the Harrison Township Police Department.
